As sociable – or unsociable – as you please...

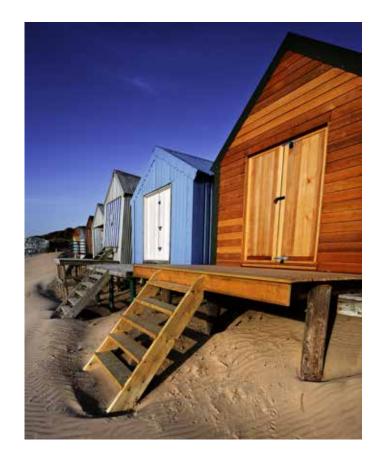

A Haulfryn holiday home is your haven away from life's everyday pressures – and it's quality time together with loved ones or friends. It's understandable that many Haulfryn holiday home owners enjoy their lodge as a truly restorative home-from-home to get away from it all. However, others have formed strong friendships with neighbouring owners and delight in meeting up to share great food, company and stories. A Haulfryn holiday home is a truly unique escape – and it's everything you need it to be.

Enjoy peace of mind and hassle-free maintenance...

The beauty of a Haulfryn holiday home is that the grounds maintenance is continuously managed all year round – including the gardens, parking areas, and the lodge itself. This means that you have none of the worries or concerns associated with traditional holiday home ownership, such as overgrown gardens, and leaking or burst pipes. It ensures the value of your Haulfryn holiday home remains stable should you ever decide to sell.

Guaranteed parking outside your lodge...

Sometimes parking in popular locations, such as Devon and Cornwall, can be a little problematic. However, every Haulfryn holiday home has its own personal and guaranteed parking space, so any potential issues or concerns are negated. This means you can easily park up, unload, or load your car, and then you're free to adventure and explore safe in the knowledge your car's in its rightful place.

Sublet opportunity

Haulfryn's 5-star sublet scheme means, that at selected parks, your beautifully appointed holiday home will earn its keep all year round. When you're not using it, subletting your lodge to other holidaymakers keen to explore the area is a great way to offset running costs and earn an extra income too. All Haulfryn Holiday Parks are situated in highly sought after and desirable locations. Haulfryn is committed to extensive national press and online advertising to ensure maximum occupancy levels at all times.

It's all in the detail with that extra special touch...

A UK holiday home is always appealing...

The upsurge in the popularity of 'staycations' is due in part to the economy and also the simple fact that many families find foreign travel stressful and expensive. Simply packing up the car on a Friday night and heading off to a comfortable, restorative and haven-like retreat is far more appealing! Furthermore, holidaying in the UK will always be attractive to countless likeminded couples and families, which means subletting your home is a straightforward prospect.
